This is the sample abstract for The 3rd CSIS International Symposium on Spintronics-based VLSIs to be held in Sendai, Japan from January 31- February 1, 2013. Please prepare your abstract in English according to the following guidelines.

The abstract is limited to one page. The page should be set to A4 (8x11 in) with 2.5 cm (1 in) margins on all sides. Use Times New Roman for all the text. The title should be centered and typed in 16pt and bold. The author list and authors' affiliations are centered and typed in 12pt. The affiliations should be typed in italics. There is a line spacing of 6pt between author list and affiliations. A 12pt spacing is between title and authors/affiliations and between authors/affiliations and the main text. Please underline the presenting author and mark* for the corresponding author then add the e-mail contact address at the last line after the references. The main text should be justified and typed in 12pt. Figures and tables can be included if needed.

The references should be consecutively numbered and should be detailed at the end in 9-point, single-spaced. When referenced in the text, enclose the citation number in square brackets, for example [1]. Where appropriate, include the name(s) of editors of referenced books. <12pt>
